WARMTH AND FRIVOLITY TO MARK FLORIDA KEYS NEW YEAR'S EVE

FLORIDA KEYS -- From beachside fireworks to wacky takeoffs on the traditional ball drop in New York's Times Square, the Florida Keys offer visitors a wealth of ways to welcome 2008

A water's-edge fireworks display is to ring in the New Year in the Upper Keys. Key Largo's bang-up community celebration is to feature fireworks over Blackwater Sound at midnight Monday, Dec. 31. The display can be viewed from local bars and restaurants including Sundowners Restaurant, Señor Frijoles, Cactus Jacks, Gus' Grille at the Marriott Key Largo Bay Beach Resort and the Caribbean Club lounge, all located at mile markers 103-104. For information, call (305) 451-4502.

Three celebrations in Key West, all slated for the night of Monday, Dec. 31, are to be staged as very different -- though equally lighthearted -- takeoffs on the Times Square gala. On Duval Street, thousands of people are expected to ring in the New Year by watching a gigantic manmade conch shell, the symbol of the Florida Keys, descend from the skies to the roof of Sloppy Joe's Bar (201 Duval St.). A few blocks away at the Bourbon Street Pub/New Orleans House complex (724 Duval St.), renowned female impersonator Sushi is slated to take the celebration's center stage. Just before midnight, a dazzlingly gowned and coiffed Sushi, riding in a glittering super-sized red high heel, is to be lowered from the balcony of the complex to the accompaniment of cheers and applause from the crowds below. In Key West's Historic Seaport, New Year's Eve revelry combines with a salute to the island city's colorful seafaring heritage. Just before midnight, a pirate wench is to begin her descent from the top of the mast of the historic tall ship Liberty Clipper -- completing it as the clock strikes and 2008 officially begins. For more information, call (305) 296-2388, ext. 121, regarding Sloppy Joe's conch shell drop, (305) 293-9800 regarding the high heel drop and (305) 292-3302 regarding the descent of the pirate wench.

Andrew Jackson University

From Donna Moore, HRD Executive Director

I wanted to let you and your officers know that in January Andrew Jackson University will have a tuition increase. Since cost is always a consideration for law enforcement personnel, if there are deputies and staff who have been considering enrolling, now is the time to do it.

With their automatic 25% Rubenstein Tuition Scholarship, current tuition is only $416 per undergraduate course and $528 per graduate course. But beginning January 1, 2008, tuition will increase to $447 and $589 respectively. This includes the scholarship. Additionally, for personnel who enroll in November we will waive the $75 application fee.

Please forward this message to your staff. We want to give everyone the opportunity to take advantage of the lower tuition. They can apply online at www.aju.edu/monroe or call Tammy Kassner at 800-429-9300, ext. 107 to get started.

Sincerely,

Betty J. Howell
