Red Cross Training to Help Save Lives

[Key West, FL] – Learning basic First Aid and CPR/Automated External Defibrillator (AED) can quite possibly mean the difference between life and death for someone suffering from Sudden Cardiac Arrest (SCA) or other medical emergency. The Red Cross advises that being able to administer first aid and CPR/AED during the first few minutes of a medical emergency is crucial to the survival and recovery of a victim. Having these skills allows you to become a vital first responder when help is needed, especially if you are out on a boat, or at another remote location.

First Aid and CPR/AED are commonly taught to everyday people who may be the only ones able to respond during the crucial first few minutes of an accident or medical emergency. First Aid and CPR/AED can also help save victims of drowning, electrocution, accidental poisoning, suffocation and drug overdose.

Register today for the June 10 CPR/AED class in Key West. First Aid is scheduled for June 11. On June 28 is Standard First Aid with CPR/AED for adults, infants and children.

The most effective way to learn First Aid and CPR/AED is to participate in hands-on training courses taught by a certified Red Cross instructor. While quick-overview videos and courses help you to become familiar with safety training; attending certification courses under the supervision of a qualified instructor is the best way to obtain the skills and confidence needed to successfully perform first aid and CPR/AED. And, in order to remain confident and keep skills current, it is recommended that you attend refresher courses and be re-certified yearly.
